Block Party Re-cap

I don't have adequate words to express the experience that I had at the Block Party this year. The impact of this event goes far beyond the three nights that we spend together. The relationships that are built, the prayers that are lifted toward heaven and the goodwill that is demonstrated are only glimpses of what we are capable of becoming. So many members of our community personally expressed their thanks for this annual event. Praise God for the opportunity to share His love with those around us!!!

This year's Block Party was a sight to see. All God's beautiful people enjoying themselves. The singing, face painting, the smell of popcorn, but most of all the presence of GOD. A little boy was taken from his mother, never met his father, found a friend at this great event. Always remember, "It only takes a spark to get a fire going." God Bless!!

Anyone who participated in or attended the 2014 College Hill Block Party, saw LOVE in action -- and true unity in the Community! Black/white, young/Old, Jew/Gentile, in Church - unchurched-- From all walks of life-- on one accord! A true glimpse of what Heaven would look like with line dancing and Double-Dutch!
Rev. P. Ann Everson-Price

It was a great joy to look around our tent and see six or seven CHPC adults and teenagers talking to our neighbors about Jesus. Little kids made bracelets with beads representing key parts of the gospel story. Teenagers looked at images and chose one to describe how they see their relationship with God. Adults talked and prayed with each other. Even people who just showed up for the free coke were glad they came. I used to stand around at the block party feeling awkward and shy. With this little bit of structure, I can talk to dozens of people and know we had really worthwhile talks.

Through the Unity Walk we made new connections with New Dimension Church. They would like to be involved next year and we are already talking about connecting for school supplies next year.

The Good News Church was delighted to participate in this year's Block Party. We had an opportunity to witness to so many young people and adults sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ. As always we were blessed to participate and look forward to next year.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to you and the College Hill Presbyterian Church for giving us the awesome opportunity to be a part of last week's neighborhood festival.. It was a wonderful blessing for us, and we made many friends and contacts.

The Block Party was a great opportunity for CHPC to reach out to our community and enjoy each other's company. For the Children and Family Ministry all three nights included face painting. Two of the nights the TWEENS and Interns served ice cream to over 600 people each evening. Several of the interns also worked the Jesus tent. They had the chance to talk to many people about Jesus and those that already knew Jesus still engaged in great conversations about their faith. It was a great event that the community embraced. It was a chance for us to envision what heaven is going to look like because for those three nights we were all celebrating together no matter our differences.
